Rebecca specialises in serious crime.

She is ranked in both Chambers & Partners and Legal 500 as a leading junior in Crime.

Her practice in serious crime, where she prosecutes and defends, has resulted in her dealing with matters of serious violence, sexual offences, large scale drug conspiracies, kidnap, child cruelty and armed robbery. She is regularly instructed as both leading and led junior on some of the most serious criminal matters.

Rebecca has particular experience working with vulnerable defendants and witnesses and those charged with historic allegations of a sexual nature and is sought out for her ability to quickly build trust and a rapport with anxious clients. She has represented clients accused of the whole spectrum of sexual offences including offences that pre-date the Sexual Offences Act 2003, and she is very experienced in the complex legal issues that can arise in dealing with very old allegations. She has wide experience of dealing with DNA and other forensic evidence in sexual cases and beyond. Her extensive expertise in such cases means she is a skilled tactician who can challenge the prosecution case while bringing the best out of her client at trial.

She has also been involved in a number of substantial fraud cases that has led her to work for individuals, corporates and government agencies, including the SFO and CPS. These matters have also included bribery, money laundering and corruption. She has extensive experience in dealing with Legal Privilege matters.

Over the years Rebecca has also been instructed to prosecute and defend professionals at NMC and GDC at their misconduct hearings.

Cases

Criminal Defence

- R v S (2019) – Successful defence of a young man of good character accused of sexually assaulting a police officer.
- R v P (2019) – Led junior in a multiple complainant child sexual assault trial, involving allegations dating from 2003 to 2018.
- R v M (2019) – Successful application to stay an historic allegation of indecent assault on a child where no evidence or material of any kind remained in respect of the original investigation conducted 34 years earlier.
- R v O (2019) – Resisted a prosecution application to adduce as hearsay body worn footage which recorded a complaint by the alleged victim of assault (contrary to s.18 OAPA 1861) who never provided a statement. The Prosecution offered no evidence.
- R v D (2019) – Represented a man of previous good character who was charged with wounding with intent with a knife in respect of his wife; psychiatric evidence allowed the Crown to accept a guilty plea to the lesser offence of wounding, and a suspended sentence was imposed.
- R v M (2018) – Three week trial of historic indecent assaults on three children, alleged for the first time in 2016, the allegations being made against the defendant by his nieces.
- R v W (2018) – Trial of an allegation of rape of the defendant's stepdaughter.
- R v B (2018) – Represented 19 y.o. defendant charged with sexual activity with a child while overseas; as defendant was not a UK national there were jurisdictional issues to consider. Following a guilty plea, defendant was sentenced to a suspended sentence order. The sentence was referred to the Court of Appeal by the Attorney General who suggested it was unduly lenient; the Court of Appeal did not agree and upheld the sentence imposed.
- R v M (2017)– A trial on charges of rape and other sexual offences where there were two adult defendants and three young complainants
- R v D (2017)– A rape trial where the defence was a denial of intercourse despite compelling DNA evidence.
- R v D (2017) – Led junior in a four-handed £2million conspiracy to defraud trial at Reading Crown Court.
- R v G (2016) – Trial of a case of 'stranger' rape of 18 year old woman in the street in the early hours of the morning.
- R v M (2016) – Represented a child in the youth court facing three charges of sexual activity with a child. The allegations were contested at trial, where the young age of both witnesses and defendant required considerable sensitivity.
- R v D (2016)– Led junior in an eight handed trial at Nottingham Crown Court where child sexual exploitation was alleged against more than twenty defendants in total (there were to be two subsequent trials). Indictment included counts of rape and conspiracy to rape. There were major issues of disclosure which contributed to the Judge deciding to stop the case at half time.

- R v I (2015)– Allegation of rape where the defendant disputed identification; the Crown eventually offered no evidence as a result of extensive work by the defence to highlight the extent of the evidence that pointed away from the suspect's guilt.
- R v H (2015)– Led junior in a four handed conspiracy to import 100 kilos of cocaine hidden in plastic bananas.
- R v A (2014)– Led junior in a case involving allegation of kidnap, wounding with intent and blackmail.
- R v M (2013) – Conspiracy to supply five kilos of cocaine
- R v M (2013)– Attempted rape, where the Crown offered no evidence shortly before trial following defence representations as to the reliability of the evidence upon which the case was founded.
- R v S (2013)– Led junior in conspiracy to kidnap, falsely imprison & blackmail (16 week trial).
- R v W (2012) – Possession and Possession with intent to supply Class A drugs where the defence involved allegation that drugs were planted by police and, on a second count, duress.
- R v D (2012) – S.18 alleged against father and two sons, all of good character, instructed for 17 year old son.
- R v D (2012) – Conspiracy to rob (cash in transit); involved issues of autrefois convict and abuse.
- R v D (2011) – Cash in transit robbery alleged against a 17 year old boy.
- R v D (2011) – Led junior in a multi handed conspiracy to rob involving firearms, following a lengthy Flying Squad surveillance operation. Major issues regarding disclosure resulted eventually in the Crown offering no evidence after several weeks of legal argument.
- R v D (2011) – 16 year old defendant charged with cash in transit robbery where the defence was duress.
- R v D (2011)– Trial of sexual activity with children charged against an 86 year old man with a long history of sexual offending and mental health problems.
- R v D (2009) – Led junior in a historic case of alleged rape and child sexual abuse relating to eleven complainants on a 60 count indictment; this included a number of counts relating to indecent images of children.
- R v D (2009)– Perverting the course of justice (false allegation of rape).

Reported case

R v Clancy 2012 2 Cr.App.R. 7, CA

Successful appeal against conviction where the Court of Appeal agreed that the conviction of the defendant was unsafe where the trial judge had directed the jury to disregard the defendant's state of mind in determining whether she had a good reason for being in possession of a knife. The appeal was allowed and the conviction quashed.
